No. 1 The Stated Clerkbegs leave to inform the Synod that soon after the rising of the Synod In 1945, at which meeting the resolutions in reference to the rree Church of 'cotland were passed, he forwarded (at the suggestion of a member of Synod the Rev. Dr. Murray) a copy of the resolutions to the Rev. Dr. Chalmers of denburgh -- that in the month of Decem'er of the same year, he raceived a latter from the Rev. Lr. Chalmers acknowledging the receipt of the sald resolutions, and stiting th t they would be laid before the General Assembly at their next meeting, and that an official and authorized reply wight be expected. The paper forwarded by the Stated Clerk, (a certifled copy of which had been handed to the fev. Lr. Cunningham soon after his arrival in this country,) was referred with other papers of a similar character to a committee appointed to answer letters of congratulation -- and on the 25th of Kovember 1844 some time after the meeting of Synod in that year, a communication was received from the committee in answer to the reaclutions of the Symod, and is as follows:

Committee Rooms 7 North St., Andrew 9t., Fdingurgh 25th October 1844.

Dear Sir:

The cormittee appointed by the late General seembly of the Free Church of Scotland to answer letters of congratulation from other churches, beg leave gratefully to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20rd of October last, enclosing resolutions of the Synod of New Jersey of date October 19th 1843.

It affords us the most heartfelt gratification to learn that the course which we have been enabled to pursue has met with the approbation of our Presbyterian brothern in America, and in general of Protestant Tvangelical Churches in all parts of the world. In particular we feel it to be a cause of gratitude to the God of all grace that when Popery is striving with so much carnestness to regain its ascendancy, there should be so general an agreement among true Christians respecting the great fundamental principle for which we have been honored to testify, and so strong a conviction of its necessity to the existence of pure and undefiled Christianity. It was a defence of the doctrine of Christ's Teadship that our fathers blad. Tay we and our brethren everywhere be saved from the helmous sin of trampling it underfoot.

We return our sincers thanks for the eagerness which you and many of our Christian brethren in America have sheve to promote our interests and to contribute to our funds and with earnest prayers for your spiritual and temporal prosperity.

We are, Rev. and Dear Sir, Your faithful servants in the Lord. In the name and on behalf of the Committee. Patrick "c Farlan, Convener.

No. 2 The Synod having learned with great satisfaction that the feeble congregations in the Presbytery of Luserne are making strengue efforts to arect vouces of Worship and to maintain the regular ordinances of the gorpel, does hereby recommend to the ministers and churches under its care to give them timely ald in their important work.

The Nev. Mugh Memil of the Presbytery of New Brunswick appeared in Synod, and assigned satisfactory reasons for not coming scener.

Resolved. That the next stated neeting of the Synod be held in the city of Trenton, on the 3rd Tuesday in October, 1846, at 3 o'clock P. ".

The Moderator of the Synod, the Rev. Mesers. Wall and Deruelle, and 'T. Thomas J. Stryker were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the religious exercises of the Synod at its next meeting.

Thereas the Synod has been informed that some enlightened and public spirited friends of Vangelical truth have argreed to call a convention in the city of London in the course of the ensuing spring, to deliberate on the best means of resisting prevalent errors, and promoting union and cooperation in favor of the truth.

And whereas it is expected that a number of leading luisters of the Free Church of Scotland and menu like minded brethren of the several Reformed Churches of England, Ireland and the Continent of Europe and expected to take part in said convention.

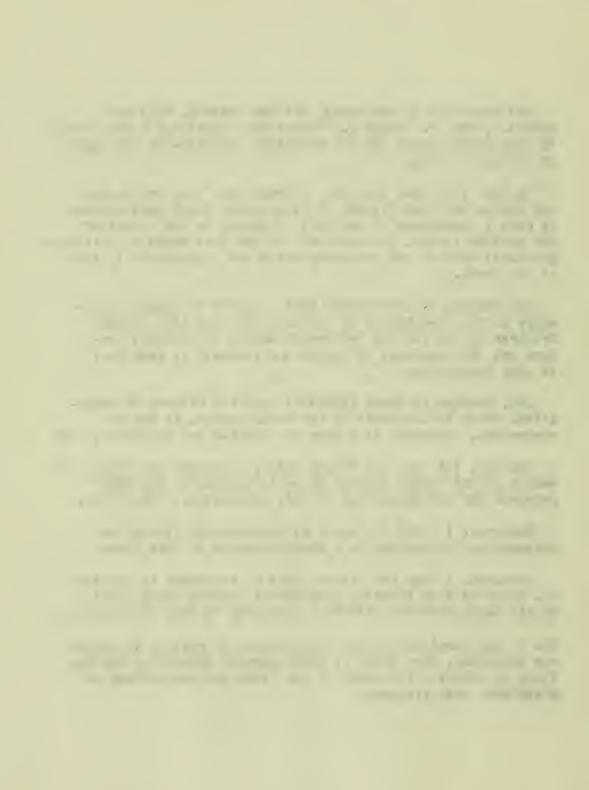

And, whereas it seems expedient that the friends of Tvangelical truth in all parts of the world should, as far as convenient, cooperate in a plan so laudable and important, and Thereas, the Rev. Dr. Robert Baird, a beloved and respected member of this body, expects to be in London, at the time proposed for the assembling of this convention. Therefore.

Resulved. 1 That Dr. Saird be requested to attend the contemplated convention as a representative of this Synod.

Resolved. 2 That the Stated Clerk be requested to Surnish Dr. Baird with an attested copy of this minute which shall be his commission for attending acreeably to this appointment.

No. 3 The committee to whem the subject of posture in prayer was entrusted, have given it their careful attention, and beg leave to submit a statement of the views and conclusions to which they have arrived.

Two things may here be taken for granted, as either selfevident, or so plainly enculcated in the Bible, as not to admit of doubt. One is that in offering up our prayers to fod, we should be filled with a deep reverence for his plerious majesty; and the other that the inward reverence should be expressed by suitable external acts. Both these things are so clear in themselves, and so frequently enjoined, that there can be no uncertainty in regard to them. God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the faints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

It enters into the very idea of religious worship, that the feelings of the worshippers should be solemn, and their deportment devout. "Verything teaches us this—the creation and providence of Cod—reason and revelation—our own sense of propriety, and the examply of the saints in all past ages of the world. Deep and hel reverence is enforced upon us by every page of divine truth, and every dictate of the human conscience. On all things, within us and around us, the fearful and gracious name of Jehovah our God, is written as in sunbeams, and in prayer, we distinctly recognize all this.

But, if the feeling of reverence be present in the mind, it will be sure, your committee believe, to express itself in the outward conduct. Everything in the looks and attitudes of the worshippers will wear a serious aspect, whenever they, who are but dust and ashes, take it upon to speak unto God. As they approach the mercy seat, a voice will reem to say, "put off thy shoes from thy feet, for the place whereen thou standard, is hely ground."

These are preliminary observations in relation to which, there can be little or no difference of opinion. But the question to be considered now is, what particular posture ought to be assumed by our congregations while engaged in public prayer? This is the single point submitted to us by the Synod, and it is this which we wish to present in a clear and distinct light. You will bear in mind that it is only prayer in the house of God which our enquirers need embrace, for there is probably no great diversity of practice in reference to prayer in the family or prayer in the closet. "e should think it strange to find a domestic circle performing their morning or evening devotions on their seats. In secret, too. It is to be presumed every one chooses some reverential attitude when he presents himself before God. It is solely in reference to prace in the canctuary, that any unpleasant diversity is found, and here almost every variety of posture which can be named is to be met with. In one congregation, when the preacher rises, and invites the people to join with him, and with each other in calling upon God we see the whole assembly keeping their seats. In another, some stands, while others sit, or they sit and st nd altern tely, as they deem most easy or convenient, while in a few instances, and these few we are corry to say, all the time becoming fewer, we Witness the pleasant spectacle of an entire assembly standing up together to presenttheir sup ligations to God. This diversity is, of itself unseemly and is one mode is decent and in order, It follows that the others are not so. Which then is the Scriptural and proper posture for public prayer? Let the Bible be our guide. To the law and to the testimony, for if any speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. There are three principal postures of prayer mentioned in the Bible--prostration, 'mealing, and standing. Your committee deem it fit and useful to spand a few minutes in illustrating each of these, and shewing to what circumstances they relate.

After the property of the property of the state of the same of the s the state of the s The second secon

The first Prestration, or falling down upon one's face is a posture of prayer naver spoken of as suited, ordinarily to congregations. It belongs rather to an individual in his orivate chamber, labouring under an unusual sence of guilt or having some special request to urge before God, or favoured with a remarkable discovery of the divine glory. In examination of cases in which prostration was practised, the committee as assured will evince the truth of this remark. To may therefore consider the question as narrowed down to the two postures kneeling and standing, one or the other of which cusht to be Taken, universally by our congregations.

Mneeling, we readily admit is a posture of prayer which we have many examples in the word of God. Such an attitude is not only an expression of hamility and a declaration of a rense of want, but it also denoted adoration of the most high, and a feeling of dependance on hi for blessings. Solomon knoth in prayer; Paul loved to bow the knoe before the God and Pather of our Lord Jesus Christ. Ind even the Saviour himself assumed this position. Kneeling has to authorize it the prompt of the scriptures, the examplys of inspired men, and the customs of all lands, heather as well as christian. This is the usual posture in social meetings and in family and in secret prayer, and no particular objection can be made to it, as the posture for a whole congregation. Fere our churches constructed with this view, it would be very proper to make this the common attitude of prayer.

The other position of the body recognized in the Bible is Standing, and this your committee judge to be the most suitable on all ordinary occasions. We have no heritation here. It cannot be combined that to stand up in the presence of a superior is a token of respect and reverence and therefore a becoming attitude for churches to assume in offering prayer to Cod. Some of our people way not be aware how strong and decided the testimony of the coripture is on this point. Not only did the public assemblies often assume this position, but it is said expressly, "when we stand before this house, and in thy presence, and cry to thee in our affliction, then thou wilt hear and telp." This very decisive. It hardly leaves it uncertain what the posture was in which the Jorish Church prayed. The Savlour to uses the phrases, "when we stand praying," while giving the conditions of acceptable a mroches unto fod. All is clear so far as Bible illustration and example are concarned.

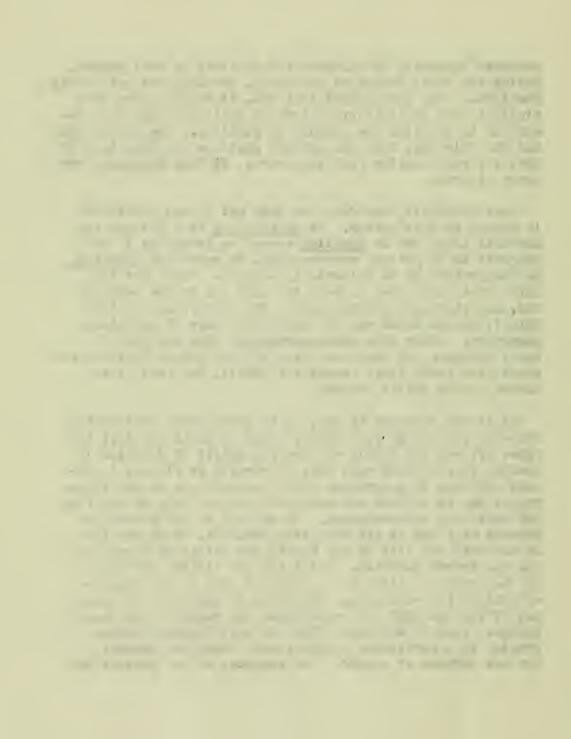

If precedent is to have weight your committee is convinced that it is in favour of standing, in preference to any other mode. That this was the custom of the 'comple 'crvice in Christ's day, we learn from the parable of the Pharises and Publican.

intended expressly to illustrate the nature of real prayer. During the whole season of Penticost, Wheeling was positively forbidden. The early Christians too, if we may judge from hints as well as distinct notices in their writings were unaniscus in adopting the posture of standing. One reason they had for this was, that the upright position reminded them of Christ's resurrection from the grave. Sitting insprayer was never allowed.

Your consittee therefore can come but to one conclusion in regard to this matter. As prostration is a private individual thing and as beeling carnet be practiced in our churches as at present construction, we recommend standing as the posture to be universally adopted. These are the only modes which seem to have the same ion of the word of God, and there are strong reasons for preferring the last. This it may be added was the uniform posture of our pleus ancestors. After this mannerworshipped they the God of their fathers. The therefore with all our people to rise, and stand with their faces toward the pulpit, and their eyes closed during public prayers.

It is not relevant to say, as is often done, that bodily forms or posture profit little. This we admit and feel the force of, but why should we lose the opinit of devotion in seeking to ascertain what mode of worship is fittest in itself and most in accordance with the teachings of the Bible. Prayer may be offered and accortable prayer too, at any time and under any circumstances. 'c mar sit in our houses and commune with God as did the picus Psalmist, or we may lie in our beds and lift up our hearts and voices to heaven as did the devout Hezekiah. Still neither citting nor lying is the proper position for us when we join in the supplications of the sanctuary. The thing is uncomed and cannot but strike the mind with repugnance the moment it is mentioned. This is not all. There is a difference betteen praying in a particular posture, and taking the posture for the purpose of prayer. for example, we may present our requests to God anywhere, in the shop, in the field, or the market house, but we do not so to these claces for the sake of praying. This your committee suppose may explain the case of David, when he came in and set before the Lord. We did not do this with the previous intention of engaging in proper on his seat, but being in that position, he found it in his heart to pray and did pray. Every Orhistian knows what this means, Here too we have a reason for the custom of sitting while asking a blessing on our meals. We take our places at the table for the purpose of eating, and may bery properly remain in our seats, while a pause to express our dependence on God, and thank him for his mercles. But prayer is not our special business there. Our Saviour co manded the multitude to be sealed, when about miraculously to feed them.

Cometimes It is objected to stending in prayer that the service is so protracted as to exhaust the strength of the congregation. If this be so, it is not thus that the corrective should be applied. "e can hardly argue from the length of the prayerseassingt a posture which is both suitable and sorigtural without running into the absurdity of making one evil practice a pretext for inculging in another. Public prayer ought never to be so long as to weary those who are in the enjoyment of tolerable health. s for the feeble and aged. they have a right to regard themselves as exceptions to the rule, and to assume without besitation such a position as best enables them to units in this solerm and delightful exercise. People in general can never plead inability to stand before God in grayer twelve or fifteen minutes. Let ministers, also remember that the flesh is sometimes weak when the opirit is willing and that the beginning of wearlness is commonly the end of devotion.

Your completes however believe that our agod church members are the last persons who would wish to be excused from standing in prayer. To see in looking over our religious assemblies that it is the sone and daughters rather than the fathers and mothers who need a dispensation to gray sitting on their seats. Old people are never first to relinquish the good customs of former days.

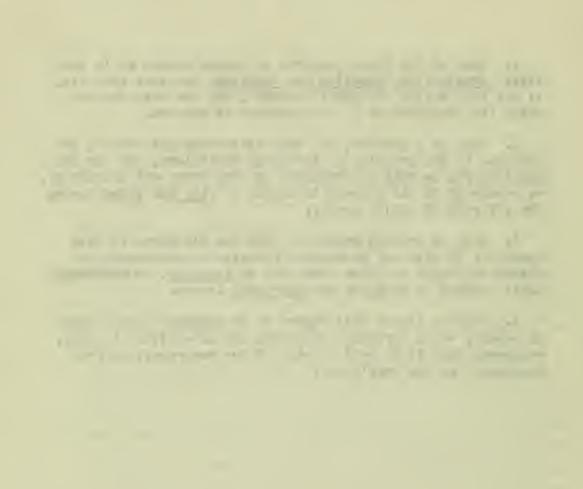

There is another thing which it seems important to notice In this connection. In many of our congregations we witness a restleasuess and confusion while the Benediction is pronounced which cannot but be regarded as utterly inconsistent with the design of this deeply interesting service. Such conduct savours as little of reworence, as it does of food breeding. "e must all agree that no part of public worship demands greater sedateness of sind than this. Thether we regard it simply as a brief concluding prayer, or as an official act of the minister authoritatively blessing the people in the name of the Lord, it evidently should be attended upon with seriousness. This is not the time for adjusting articles of drass, or gatting ready, as it in haste to leave the house of God. To separate perhaps not to meet again on earth, and we should all retire, praying that the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God our heavenly Father, and the communion of the Woly Ghost may abide with us for ever.

In view of the foregoing state ments and reasons, your committee judge that standing is the fittest position for wraver in the sanctuary. This is an attitude tau ht os b the light of nature, as well as by the examples and precepts of the sible, and it is one in which our congregations can more readily harmonizs, then in any other. We should be glad to see more un-Iformity in the Isalmody in use, and in sverything pertaining to the order of God's house. But we must say it is yocal rly unpleasant in itself and entirely at v riance with scripture and the practice of the primitive church to witness so strange a diversity of porture in public prayer. It is not comely or of good report for one to stand and another sit, while the mass of the congregation is scrietly to on one position, and sometimes in another. This has an appearance of carelessness and irreverence which needs only to be considered in order to its being condemned.

We therefore recommend to the Symod the adoption of the following resolution.

the first term of the first te the second contract of the second sec

- 1. That of the three postures of prayer spoken of in the Bible, prostration, kneeling and standing, the last one, viz. is the best suited for public worship, and the only one to which the construction of our churches is adopted.
- 2. That as a posture, not only scriptural and proper, but enforced by the practice of the early Christians, and our own forefathers, as rell as conducive to good order and uniformity, we recommend to all persons in health to rise and stand during the offering of public proper.
- 3. That we gravely enjoin it upon the ministers of this Synod not to give any reasonable occasion to the people to assume any other position than that of standless by prolonging their proyers to an under and versions length.
- 4. That we direct this report to be printed in some paper or papers, which circulate among us, and in addition to this, recommend that it be read to each of our congregations from the pulpit on the Lord's day.

NARPATIVE OF THE STATE OF RELIGION 1845

Throughout our churches there has been observed for the year past a good, and in many places a much increased attendance upon public worship on the Sabbath, and there is uniform and marked testimony to the faithfulness with which Sabbath Schools, Bible and Catechism classes and other means of instructing the young have been emplyed, and the apparent benefit that has resulted. The Synod are also happy to find such general assurances of the peace and external prosperity of the congregations and of the faithfulness and regularity with which pastoral duties performed the monthly concert of prayer is represented to be extremely, though not universally observed, and the contributions to benevoletn purposes though still lamentably below what they should be, are increasing in amount. These favorable views are represented as the prevailing character of our reports on these points,, though there are in particular places, exceptions to each.

But on the other hand, there is a powerful uniformity in the reports of the low state of vital piety and of the remarkably few additions to the churches. With the exception of Deerfielf in the Presbytery of "est Jersey and of Arawell 2nd, Milford and Kingwood in the Presbytery of Raritanwe know not that there have been any results such as we are accustomed to notice as evidences of an awakened interest on the subject of practical religion. The vice of intemperance and the interest in its suppression is we fear in many places, declining-One of our Presbyteries utters a complaint which we would here quote as ene of the signs-We fear not an unusual one-of the decline of Christian zeals among us. "Our sad hindrance in the way of evangelizing this region is the unsurmountable repugnance of young men to enter the field unless a comfortable support could be insured them, as though they were not commanded to endure hardness as good soldiers-There is also another hindrance not less to be deplored, and tha is, that men enter a missionary field, with the full intention of leaving it as scon as they can go as candidates to a better place."

In view of all these facts, thus presented, the Synod feel that the present is a time that loudly calls for increased exertion on the part of the ministers and elders to awaken a spirit of prayer and humiliation among themselves and the people
